A CANTERBURY TALE

The Building Limes Forum holds a conference every year to discuss the hot topics of the day.

Canterbury was the venue this year where the cathedral is undergoing extensive renovation.

The theme this year was 'Pozzolans, Additives and Natural Cements'. Interspersed with informative seminars were site visits including a trip up the scaffolding to the highest spire of the cathedral.

This year Steve attended from our office and had an informative and stimulating weekend including a visit to the very top of the cathedral. We hope you like his photos !!

Mike Wye and Associates are pleased to be supporters of the BLF and acknowledge the role the forum plays in furthering the understanding of lime and lime mortars in traditional building.

Mike Wye Delivers..

At Mike Wye we continually review our delivery options. We aim to provide the best cost solution for getting your order to you using a national pallet network, courier service and our own fleet of lorries.

A couple of suggestions to help make your delivery hassle free. Arrange to have someone on hand to receive the goods or leave instructions. Failure to do this may result in re-delivery costs and lost time. Do advise us of any restrictions to vehicle access at your site. And lastly, do check your goods at point of delivery, advise us of any damage without delay.

And remember, we are here to help. Just call 01409 281644

Marie Heads To No. 10

As one of fifteen businesses invited to represent the voice of rural enterprise at No 10 Downing Street last month, Mike Wye and Associates were invited to attend. Marie Guppy caught the train to the big city to represent us.

Marie says

“ We were honoured to be part of a select group of businesses invited to attend a Business Roundtable at No. 10 Downing Street. The meeting with Niamh Mulholland, Business Relations Manager, was an opportunity to explore the challenges faced by rural businesses, and discuss ways to address these issues so that businesses in rural areas can thrive”.

The Rural Business Group has been set up to give a voice to rural business in government circles.
