Wishing you all a happy and a prosperous New Year

We're all back at work after an enjoyable Christmas break, and looking forward to an action packed 2016 here at Mike Wye & Associates.

We're really excited about the new Mike Wye Sustainable Showroom, currently under construction here at Buckland Filleigh Sawmills

We will be showcasing a number of environmentally friendly building products/techniques in the showroom

You're welcome to come and see us at work. Just contact us to notify us of your areas of interest. We will contact you as soon as the schedule becomes firm and let you know the dates you can come along

- ✿ A Glasscrete® floor (breathable lime with an insulating foam glass base)
- ✿ Strawbale wall construction
- ✿ Sedum roof
- ✿ Secil ecoCORK insulating render
- ✿ SecilVit cork board insulation

Want to be on TV?

Well known TV architect George Clarke is looking for projects for a new series about the restoration of domestic period homes. If your project involves a home built before 1940, starts January/February and will end May/June this year and has full planning permission and finance, they would like to hear from you.

Contact us and we will put you in touch!

Our clearance sale of the beautiful "From the Anvil" Ironmongery will continue until we have sold every last piece. But it's moving fast, so pop in and have a look, or check on our website for available items.

1/3 off selected items!

We're very proud of the number of people we have taught on our popular courses. Many are working professionally, using their skills in their work, others using the knowledge gained either to help in their own house restorations, or to inform their management of their projects. Either way, people find the courses a very effective way of gaining the knowledge they need for their area of interest.

Why not join this educated crowd by booking onto one of our courses?
